

A large rectangular frame with a dashed red line for writing. The frame is oriented vertically and has a decorative shape at the bottom, with the corners cut off at a 45-degree angle. The dashed red line is positioned in the lower third of the frame, leaving a significant amount of space above it for writing or drawing.